Alpha Ten has recently placed focus on effective green business strategies. Alpha Ten has teamed with reputable environmental services firms to address the growing need to address their organizational environmental requirements. Through our network of environmental partners, we work towards helping our clients: Develop management strategies that incorporate environmental compliance standards and achieve organizational missions; Analyze and assess the interconnections among subfields of environmental systems to comprehend treatment, remediation, and disposal systems; Assess the direct and indirect costs of environmental regulation, problems, and corrective actions and develop and evaluate organizational environmental strategies and policies. WOUNDED WARRIOR TRANSITION

Alpha Ten proudly supports our troops. One way we show this support is by embracing the government efforts to support our wounded and disabled veterans effectively transition into civilian careers.

Alpha Ten developed a program to address two significant issues concurrently through our Green IT Warrior Program. Through this program we are able to assist organizations in meeting their environmental goals and also effectively assist our wounded warriors and their spouses by giving them a chance for a productive and successful career outside of the military.

CORE PHILOSOPHY

Alpha Ten Technologies, Inc. believes that as a professional services firm, the services that we offer are a continuing journey rather than a destination. Improving the level of services within any organization should be treated as a continuing learning and evolutionary process.

The organization must look upon its processes as a life cycle with each activity or milestone logically leading to the next, continuously redefined, implemented, refined and repeated.

To assist our clients address the challenges they face internationally within the areas of Intelligence, Technology and Security, we help them continually Assess, Resolve and Manage (ARMSM) these areas through a comprehensive suite of solutions and services that are tailor-made to the specific needs of the organization.

ARMSM is three-function lifecycle based on the three-legged stool philosophy. It continually evolves and adapts to the ever-changing landscape of our client's specific industry and core functionality. Each function serves as a foundation to ensure that the "stool" or the organization continually "stands-up" or effectively address its needs and challenges.
